

HOW CAN I FORGET

Sung by Miss BROADHURST.

Price 20 Cents

Printed at B. Carr's Musical Repositories in New York & Philadelphia.

Moderato

How can I forget the fond hour when Edward first offerd his heart at eve on the green I trembled for fear we should part you left me dear Edward you left me forlorn when night sent the shepherds to rest I watch'd the first streaks of the morn I saw you return and was blest I saw you return and was blest I saw you return return return & was blest How can I forget the fond hour when Edward first offerd his heart when Edward first offerd when Edward first offerd his heart at eve on the green on the green in the bow I trembled for fear we should part I trembled for fear we should part you left me dear Edward you left me forlorn when night sent the shepherds to rest when night sent the shepherds to rest I watch'd the first streaks of the morn I saw you return and I was blest I watch'd the first streaks of the morn I saw you return and I was blest I saw you return and I was blest.

My Parents tho humble were happy and good
 We could boast of our honour if not of our blood;
 My lover, Ah! how the sad tale shall I tell
 For his country he fought for his country he fell!
 He was brave he was true to my soul he was dear
 His fame claims a smile but it shines through a tear!

In vain would I picture my agonised heart
 My parents soft soothing no balm can impart They sunk ere the child they could not relieve
 And the cold hand of death left me only to grieve Thus fated to suffer the moment draws near When you'll neither distinguish the smile nor a tear

---

Then come dear youth and